Assistant/Associate/Full Professor in Statistics

Applications and nominations are invited for the tenure-track position of Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Statistics in the Department of Statistics at the University of California, Riverside.

The University of California at Riverside has launched the final phase of planning for its new Medical School. The Department of Statistics will be part of an exceptional environment for interdisciplinary research with the new Medical School and other health related initiatives on campus. Candidates with a research profile for developing theory and methods of statistics in a variety of related research areas are highly desirable.

The position targets candidates with high quality research and strong teaching records, and general training in statistics or biostatistics with expertise preferably in more than one of the following areas: Statistical Methodology for Clinical Trials, Discrete Data Analysis, Nonparametric or Semi-Parametric Statistics, Large Scale Data Analysis, Image Analysis, Bayesian or Classical Inference, Spatial Statistics, Longitudinal Data Analysis, Missing Data, and Survival Analysis. Qualified candidates must have a Ph.D. in Statistics or Biostatistics or a similar statistically oriented discipline. The position is effective July 1, 2008.

Reviews for the position begin February 1, 2008, and will continue until the position is filled. Interested applicants should send a letter describing how their qualifications and interests would fit with the position description along with their curriculum vitae, to:

Professor Keh-Shin Lii
Department of Statistics
Room 2626 Statistics-Computer Building
University of California
900 University Avenue
Riverside, CA 92521-0138, USA

Applicants at the Assistant or Associate Professor levels should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent to Professor Lii. Applicants at the Full Professor level should provide the names of three references. Until the file is complete with the requested information, the application cannot be given full consideration.

The University of California is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Members of underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply. The University has family-friendly policies and is committed to accommodating the needs of dual career couples.
